Vocabula Caesaris (IV.29-31) maritimus, -a, -um, maritime, sea aestus, -us m. tide, surge consuesco, -ere, -evi, to be accustomed subduco, -ere, -duxi, -ductum, to draw up, pull up deligo (1) to tie up, fasten afflicto (1) to toss about, strike, damage facultas, -atis f. opportunity, ability auxilior (1) to bring help to frango, -ere, fregi, fractum, to break funis, funis m. rope armamenta, -orum n.pl. equipment, gear inutilis, -e, useless perturbatio, -ionis f. confusion, disorder reporto (1) to carry back desum, -esse, -fui, to be lacking reficio, -ere, -feci, -fectum, to repair constat = it is known hiemari, to pass the winter opretet, it is necessary provideo, -ere, -vidi, -visum, to foresee, provide for princeps, -ipis m. leader, chieftain convenio, -ire, -veni, -ventum, to come together, gather colloquor, -i, -locutus sum, to converse paucitas, -atis f. scarcity, small number exiguitas, -atis f. smallness hoc = on this account angustus, -a, -um, narrow impedimenta, -orum n.pl. baggage duco, -ere, duxi, ductum, to think rebellio, -ionis f. renewal of war commеatus, -us m. line of communication; supplies produco, -ere, -duxi, -ductum, to bring forth, produce; postpone, defer reditus, -us m. return intercludo, -ere, -clusi, -clusum, to cut off, stop, block confido, -ere, -fisus sum, to trust; be confident rursus adv. again coniuratio, -ionis f. conspiracy paulatim adv. little by little; gradually; a few at a time discendo, -ere, -cessi, -cessum, to leave clam adv. secretly etsi, although nondum, not yet eventus, -us m. result, outcome intermitto, -ere, -misi, -missum, to interrupt, stop fore = futurum esse suspicor (1) to suspect, surmise casus, -us m. fall; chance; accident; contingency comparo (1) to prepare cotidie adv. daily confero, -ferre, -tuli, collatum, to collect, bring together affligo, -ere, -flixi, -flictum, to strike, damage, harm materia, -ae f. material, lumber aes, aeris n. copper studium, -i n. eagerness, zeal amitto, -ere, -misi, -missum, to lose commode adv. adequately, satisfactorily efficio, -ere, -feci, -fectum, to bring about, cause, make