Pro Archia Vocabulary (Sections 8-14) civitas, -atis f. city; citizenship amplius adv. more, further infirmo (1) to weaken, void ascribo, -ere, -scripsi, -scriptum, to enrol nego (1) to deny; say not adsum, -esse, afui, to be present auctoritas, -atis f. prestige, authority fides, -ei f. loyalty, good faith opinor, -ari, -atus sum, to suppose scio, scire, scivi, scitum fortuna, -ae f. fortune; wealth sedis, sedis f. seat; home conloco (1) to settle, establish, set up profiteor, -eri, -fessus sum, to declare incendo, -ere, -censi, -censum, to burn incendium, -i n. record-office intereo, -ire, -ii, to die, perish quaero, -ere, -sivi, -itus, to search for, seek; ask for taceo, -ere, -ui, to keep silent flagito (1) to demand amplius, -a, -um, large, spacious integer, -gra, -grum, whole, intact ius iurandum, oath depravo (1) to corrupt repudio (1) to reject, refuse soleo, -ere, solitus sum, to be accustomed corrumpo, -ere, -rupi, -ruptum, to corrupt, break annus, -i m. year

sedis, sedis f. seat; home
fortuna, -ae f. fortune; wealth
conloco (1) to settle, establish, set up
profiteor, -eri, -fessus sum, to declare
incendo, -ere, -censi, -censum, to burn immo adv. on the contrary obtineo, -ere, -ui, -tentus, to have, possess adservo (1) to keep safe, preserve incolumnis, -e safe, unharmed, intact levitas, -atis f. frivolity, unreliability damnatio, -ionis f. condemnation calamitas, -atis f. disaster, ruin sanctus, -a, -um, upright, virtuous modestus, -a, -um, restrained, mild iudex, iudicis m. jury litura, -ae f. erasure commoveo, -ere, -movi, -motum, to move greatly; disturb, trouble dubito (1) to doubt; hesitate praesertim adv. especially quoque adv. also eternum adv. indeed mediocris, -e, ordinary, average humilis, -e, humble, lowly praeditus, -a, -um + abl. endowed with gratuitus adv. free, without payment impertio, -ire, -ivi, -itum, to present, offer credo, -ere, -didi, -ditum, to believe largior, -iri, -itus sum, to bestow, confer summus, -a, -um, highest, greatest nolo, nolle, nolui, to be unwilling, not want ceterus, -a, -um, other, the rest inrepo, -ere, -repsi, to slip in, creep in utor, uti, usus sum + abl. to use quidem adv. indeed, certainly volo, velle, volui, to wish, want to recio, -ere, -ieci, -iectus, to reject census, -us m. registration of citizens requiro, -ere, -sivi, -itus, to ask for, inquire about; demand scilicet adv. obviously (often sarcastic) obscursus, -a, -um, unclear, doubtful proximus, -a, -um, nearest; next; last (of time) clarus, -a, -um, famous; clear imperator, -oris m. general exercitus, -us m. army censeo, -ere, -ui, to estimate, value; conduct the census quoniam adv. because indico (1) to make known, show gero, -ere, gessi, gestum, to do, perform; wear (clothes) wage (war) criminor, -ari, -atus sum, to accuse ne . . . quidem not even verso (1) to turn; pass. be engaged in saepe adv. often adeo, -ire, -ii, to go to, enter hereditas, -atis f. inheritance aerarium, -i, treasury argumentum, -i n. evidence delecto (1) to delight reficio, -ere, -feci, -fectum, to repair, restore, revive streptus, -us m. clamor, uproar auris, auris f. ear convicium, -i n. loud noise; abuse defessus, -a, -um, worn out conquiesco, -ere, -quievi, to rest existmo (1) to judge, consider cotidie adv. daily doctrina, -ae f. teaching excolo, -ere, -colui, -cultus, to improve, cultivate fero, ferre, tuli, latum, to bear; endure fateor, -eri, fassus sum, to confess abdo, -ere, -didi, -ditus, to put away, hide communis, -e, common adfero, -ferre, attuli, allatum, to bring to fructus, -us m. gain, profit, enjoyment aspectus, -us m. view, sight lux, lucis f. light profero, -ferre, -tuli, -latum, to bring forward, produce vivo, -ere, vixi, victum, to live otium, -i n. leisure abstraho, -ere, -traxi, -tractum, to distract, divert voluptas, -atis f. pleasure, enjoyment avoco (1) to divert, call away somnus, -i n. sleep retardo (1) to hold back, discourage quare, for what reason; wherefore tandem adv. finally, at last reprehendo, -ere, -hensi, -hensum, to rebuke ludus, -i m. public game, holiday celebro (1) to throng, crowd reques, requietis f. rest, repose corpus, -oris n. body concedo, -ere, -cessi, -cessus, to concede, grant tribuo, -ere, -ui, -utus, to bestow, grant tempestivus, -a, -um, timely convivium, -i, banquet, feast pila, -ae ball (for a game) sumo, -ere, sumpsi, sumptum, to take up, undertake magis adv. more cresco, -ere, crevi, cretum, to grow quantuscumque, -acumque, -umcumque, howsoever great desum, -esse, -fui, to fail, be lacking levis, -e, light, unimportant, slight quidem adv. indeed, certainly fons, fontis m. source, origin; fountain haurio, -ire, hausi, haustum, to drain; derive suadeo, -ere, suasi, suasum + dat. to persuade, urge magnopere adv. especially expeto, -ere, -ivi, -itum, to seek after laus, laudis f. praise honestas, -atis f. honesty, integrity persequer, -i, -secutus sum, to strive mors, mortis f. death exsilium, -i n. exile salus, -utis f. safety, security tot, so many dimicatio, -onis f. struggle cotidiansus, -a, -um, daily impetus, -us m. attack, assault obicio, -ere, -iei, -iectum, to throw, hurl plenus, -a, -um + gen. full sapiens, -ientis, wise exemplum, -i n. model, sample vetustas, -atis f. tradition; antiquity iaceo, -ere, iacui, to lie, be situated tenebrae, -arum f.pl. shadows, darkness lumen, -inis n. light; brillance accedo, -ere, -cessi, to approach; be added imago, -inis f. image; death mask intueor, -eri, -itus sum, to gaze at, examine imitor, -ari, -atus sum, to copy, imitate fortis, -e, brave exprimo, -ere, -pressi, -pressum, to press out, produce; express scriptor, -oris m. writer, author relinquo, -ere, reliqui, relictum, to leave behind, abandon administror (1) to manage, perform duties propono, -ere, -posui, -positum, to put forward cogitatio, -onis f. thought, thinking conforme (1) to shape, form